Some thoughts about creating artwork with 'Gratitude' from Ross...

"You have to love your work in art each day. Do not think about trade, (selling is only bonus to your work), Have patience and put all your heart into your work.

Do not rush with your work and sometimes if you do not like your unfinished work, get relaxed and after some time you can come back and finish your artwork. If you think the job you have done is not up to your feelings, put it away and do not keep it anymore. Do not think about if the art lover will like your art or not. Just do it for you and your gratitude."
